Our ticket vending machines can facilitate the purchase of discounted tickets and companion tickets for railcard holders.

Tickets can also be booked through Greater Anglia's website: www.greateranglia.co.uk

Please note that the Greater Anglia train service on this route is 'Driver Only Operation' and so tickets cannot be purchased on the train. If you are unable to buy a ticket at the station before your journey as a result of your disability, Greater Anglia's Accessible Travel Policy states, you will be able to purchase a ticket at your arrival destination.

If your disability makes travelling by train difficult, you may be eligible to apply for a Disabled Persons Railcard. The Railcard allows you, and an adult companion travelling with you, to get a third off most Standard and First-Class fares throughout Great Britain.

We adhere to the general policy of reduced fares for disabled none railcard holders. In addition to railcards, passengers who are visually impaired and travel with a companion, as well as wheelchair users, who remain in their wheelchair for the whole train journey, are eligible for a concessionary fare. The ticket discount is as follows:

- First Class/Standard Anytime Singles or Returns 34% off
- First Class/Standard Anytime Day Single 34% off
- First Class/Standard Anytime Day Return 50% off

(In some instances, other ticket types, such as Off-peak or Advance purchase may be cheaper, our staff will be able to advise you of the cheapest option when you buy your ticket).

Blind or visually impaired passengers

You are entitled to a discount without a railcard so long as you are travelling with a companion. Your companion will be able to buy a ticket at the same discount. If you are travelling alone, you will need a railcard to get a discount. You must show a document confirming your disability when buying your ticket or travelling. It must be either a CVI/BP1/BD8 certificate or documentation from a recognised institution, for example, Social Services, your Local Authority or Blind Veterans UK. In addition to the above you can also buy an adult season ticket that allows a companion to travel with you at no extra cost. This does not have to be the same person travelling with you on each journey.

Wheelchair users

You are entitled to a discount without a railcard, if you remain seated in your own wheelchair, for the whole rail journey. You are entitled to do so whether you are travelling alone or with a companion. If you are with an adult companion, they can also buy a ticket at the discounted price.

If things do not go as planned

Delays, disruption to facilities and services and emergencies

Our Commitment to you includes the following: -

If disruption or delay to the services occurs, we will do everything possible to ensure that you are able to continue with your journey. We will provide assistance to persons with reduced mobility in making their connections when trains are re-platformed at short notice. We will also help you in making alternative travel arrangements if your booked assistance is no longer valid or disruption occurs with no advance warning.

If temporary works or a facility failure, such as lifts being out of order, at the station render it inaccessible to you we shall arrange alternative transport such as a taxi, free of charge, to take you to the nearest or most convenient accessible station.

Alternative accessible transport (arranged by the TOC) will be available when planned engineering works require substitute transport arrangements, such as replacement buses.

Our staff can advise on the provision of accessible taxis that serve the station and can contact them if requested.

Emergencies: We have documented procedures for emergency situations, including the evacuation of the station.

We recognise that emergency arrangements can impart their own additional risks to the safety of passengers, particularly if you have a disability. Disabilities can include for example people with non-visible disabilities including autism (without a communication problem), mental health difficulties, vision and sight impairment, dementia, anxiety as well as those with reduced mobility. You will be advised by staff that, always providing of course that there is no immediate risk of harm, you are not required to join in any surge to leave but are best to remain in a safe location identified by staff, until otherwise directed by staff or the emergency services.

Whilst an announcement will immediately be made over the public address system, you may not have heard or understood the message given. Station staff will be on hand to ensure that you understand the instructions and will provide reassurance and guidance where appropriate.

Our Station staff are trained in the emergency arrangements and given guidance on your needs in emergency situations. That guidance also includes the importance of communicating with all passengers, recognising that English may not be everyone's first language and that some may have impaired hearing.

Emergency evacuation arrangements are detailed on notices at the station. All our Customer Support staff have been instructed in these arrangements; Station staff will pay attention to anyone whose disability or lack of mobility may present difficulties. As soon as we are aware of any emergency, or need to quickly evacuate the station, staff on duty will, if necessary, be supplemented by support staff from the airport terminal; these support staff have also received instruction on disability awareness and the emergency arrangements at the station.

Redress

When we receive confirmation that assistance has been booked for journeys to commence from our station and this assistance failed; we will provide appropriate compensation to you. Levels of compensation will be determined by the London Southend Airport Station Manager on a case by case basis, taking cognisance of all relevant factors; for example, reimbursing the train fare where a particular train was missed because of London Southend Airport Station actions or inactions. We will also explain to the passenger why assistance was not provided and what steps have been taken to ensure the failure does not reoccur.
